

4. Men Without Women by Ernest Hemingway (New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1927)

Inscribed: Jane M. Russell
1928

The page that is reproduced on the following page is attached inside the back cover of Men Without Women by Hemingway. When shown that page on May 23, 1978, HLRP remarked: "It looks like it is a book club from the Presbyterian Church. Alice Rashleigh... Mrs. Russell... that must be Aunt Lydia--they were Presbyterians. Miss Anna Berry taught eighth grade at the Roosevelt School. Miss Pengelly also taught eight grade. Miss Dunstan taught High School. Miss Jones--that's possibly Eleanor. Miss Fey...her first name was Grace. Her brother used to be mayor of Carbondale... Book clubs used to be a big thing."